CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

The international conference ENERGETICA 2024 is dedicated to the advancement and expansion of knowledge about methods, policies and technologies for electricity production and sustainable development. We invite all relevant energy companies, representatives from industry, research centers, universities and other entities, as well as experts from the country and abroad to present their professional achievements and research, their experiences and share important information in the field of energy. The conference is a forum for sharing and exchanging experiences and plans on a regional and global level.

Thematic areas of the conference relate to the challenges facing the energy sector, especially companies, investors and users.

The planned plenary sessions, discussions and presentations will provide a real platform for identifying the appropriate mechanisms and activities in order to overcome the problems in the country and the region, as well as strengthening mutual cooperation.
